WM. N. KNOX, Agent,

Reno, Nevada.

WE TAKE PLEASURE IN CALLING your attention to the above named Company, the stockholders of which are among the leading citizens and capitalists of our city and State, many of whom are no doubt personally known in Reno.

Their business and financial standing warrant the confidence of insurers and the "SUN" a reputation second to no company, foreign or domestic, doing business on this coast.

We give below the list of the stockholders, of which this company is composed, which is a safe guarantee; the stockholders' combined capital being from $75,000,000 to $80,000,000.

The company will be managed with economy, its risks will be selected with care and it will in all cases be honorable and prompt in the adjustment and payment of its losses.

A feature of this company is, that under its By-Laws, from twenty-five to fifty per cent. of its profits must be laid aside as a reserve fund for the better protection of its policy-holders.

THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

As indicated by the recent primaries and appointments of Central Committees, the choice of the Democracy for Governor is Jewett W. Adams, and he will undoubtedly receive the nomination next week at the hands of the Eureka Convention. It is a comparatively easy matter to designate the entire Democratic State ticket. It will be as follows: Congressman, Geo. W. Cassidy, of Eureka; Governor, Jewett W. Adams, of Storey; Lieut. Gov., T. J. Bell, of Nye; Supreme Judge, M. N. Stone, of Storey; Controller, J. L. Thorpe, of Lyon; Secretary of State, J. S. Mooney, of Esmeralda; Atty General, Geo. W. Merrill, of Eureka; Surveyor General, Harry Day, of Ormsby; Clerk Supreme Court, A. C. May, of Esmeralda; Supt. Public Instruction, W. W. Booher, of Storey; State Printer, S. S. Sears, of Elko.

We have not heard of any candidate for Treasurer. The ticket above named is not an especially strong one, although there are some good men on it. If the Republicans will only "smile and look pleasant" there ought not to be much trouble in sending the Democratic ticket on an excursion up Salt River.

The terms of twenty-six Senators will expire on the 3d of March next—fourteen Democrats, eleven Republicans and one Independent, as follows: Morgan, Garlands, Salasbury, Hill of Georgia, Beck, Lamar, McPherson, Ransome, Grove, Butler, Harris, Coke, Johnson, and Davis of West Virginia, Democrats; Chilcott, Plumb, McDill, Frye, Hoar, Kellogg, Ferry, Windom, Saunders, Rollins and Anthony, Republicans; and Davis of Illinois, Independent. Of these Beck and Lamar have been chosen as their own successors; Gibson, Democrat, has been elected to succeed Kellogg, Republican; Riddleberger, Readjuster, has been elected to succeed Johnson, Democratic, and Wilson, Republican, to succeed McDill Republican.

The nomination of Senator Harrison for the Presidency the other day in Indianapolis is favorably commented on by many Republican papers in different sections of the county. The Cincinnati Commercial suggests Harrison and Lincoln as a ticket that would be popular. It adds, however, that "this is, of course, speculative. It may be the lightning will strike in a very different quarter of the Union. There is no forecasting what will happen when the next Republican National Convention is held. One thing is sure, however—it will not be controlled by Senatorial bosses, and there will be no third term in it."

There is probably nothing in it but nevertheless it is just a little singular that only eight Republicans have been selected as Grand Jurors.

The JOURNAL hopes that Mayor Blake of San Francisco, will be the Republican nominee for Governor of California. He is the man to defeat Stoneman.

Children Bury a Playmate Alive

[Patoka Journal.]
A horrible rumor comes to us of an incredible act of foolishness on the part of some colored children living near Etowah creek, Putnam county Fla., by the name of Williams. It seems that the children had been to a funeral a short time before, and while playing at home the other day the idea of burial came into their heads. A large hole was dug and one of their number a young child hardly more than a baby, was put in and covered up entirely! The other children played around a while longer, but soon forgot their companion buried alive, and wandered off. At night, when inquiry was made after the missing child, the horrible story was told. The frightened parents hastened to the spot pointed out and dug up the child, but, of course too late.

BLUNDERS OR WORSE.

The Elko Independent, a strong Democratic paper, is not satisfied with the manner in which affairs are being conducted in its party. It says:
A report reached here last evening that the Democratic County Central Committee of Lander met at Austin Wednesday evening, and instead of calling primaries or a County Convention to elect delegates to the State Convention, themselves made the appointments. It is furthermore stated that not satisfied with this usurpation of power which properly belonged to the rank and file of the party, they instructed the delegates to vote for a certain candidate for Governor. If this is true, it is not only an outrage, but a most unpardonable blunder of political policy, and must inevitably redound to the injury of the party generally, and especially to the Committee's candidate in the event of his nomination. The Democratic party in Nevada is not strong enough to stand such high-handed proceedings, and we cannot imagine how the members of the Lander Committee could have been so short-sighted as to cast such an apple of discord into the organization whose interests they were delegated to watch and protect. We understand that there is an intense feeling of indignation among the Democracy of that county, and that the action of the Committee will be repudiated and primaries held in many of the precincts for the election of delegates. If this is done there is not a shadow of doubt but that the elected delegates will be admitted in the State Convention in the place of those appointed by the Committee. The Nye County Committee also took the appointing power into their own hands, making the appointments in the interest of a certain candidate, and the Esmeralda County Committee named a list of delegates to be voted for at the primaries. All this is wrong, and unless the people rectify the blunders the result will be disastrous to the party election. There is no disguising the fact that with perfect harmony in their ranks the Democracy will have no easy fight this fall, while defeat will be the inevitable result of an illegitimately nominated ticket.

THE STRIKERS AT WORK.

The incumbent of a certain State office informs the Carson Appeal that within the past week he has been approached by a dozen political strikers, trying to levy blackmail upon him. The Appeal adds:
Ten of these persons he personally knows to be bar-room loungers who have not performed a day's work since he has been in office. These bumpkins promised to do anything for him, from controlling the Ormsby county delegation to manipulating the entire State Convention in his interest. And if the fact were known, not a member of our delegation would recognize these fellows on the street. It is needless to say that this State officer did not contribute a dollar to these strikers, and if other candidates will imitate his example they can save themselves much unnecessary expense during the campaign. To give this class of parasites a dollar with the expectation of deriving any benefit from them is a mistake. They haven't influence enough to control a vote at the polls. They are not even certain of their own vote until a short time before the polls close. It is to be hoped that these fellows will not receive much pecuniary success this year.

SENSIBLE MAC.

M. S. Bonfield, of Winnemucca, an aspirant for the Democratic nomination for Judge of the District composed of Humboldt and Elko counties, inserts the following card in the Elko Independent:

It is due the party and myself to state that, in consequence of the small probable Democratic majority in each of the counties comprising the new Judicial District, I cannot afford to hazard the necessarily heavy expenses of a canvass unless there is substantial unanimity in the Elko delegation in my favor. If this delegation is divided, I desire it understood that my name is withdrawn. I desire the nominees to have the unanimous vote of the Convention, and whoever may receive the nomination shall have my zealous and hearty support. Tours, etc., M. S. Bonfield.

RICH PRICES OF ONE.—The Austin Reveille of the 25th has the annexed:
One of the richest and handsomest specimens of silver ever taken from the mines in this district was yesterday presented to Governor Kinkaid by Senator Farrell. It weighed about three pounds, and is from one of the mines of the Manhattan Company. For a base, as it were, it has the quartzite adjoining or forming a portion of the wall of the vein, but the main body or mass is composed of the purest antimonial or ruby silver, beautiful in color and natural design, but still more valuable for its exceptional richness, it assaying over $9,000 to the ton. It was of the same character and value as the magnificent large specimen which was recently sent to the Denver Exposition from here. John Frost last evening showed a Rev. elle representative two magnificent specimens of silver ore which he had just received from Tuscarora. One, from the Navajo mine, weighed about a pound, and was simply a brilliant mass of rich sulphurets, crystallized silver, etc. The other was smaller, from the Belle Isle, and similar to the other, but more brilliant, although not so rich. Either specimen, however, would almost melt down its weight in pure silver. More beautiful cabinet specimens are rarely seen. If they only have plenty of that kind of ore, Tuscarora is bound to come out all right.

The Enterprise says just at present there appears to be more travel over the Carson & Colorado than there is over the Virginia & Truckee. Travel over the former road will continually increase as the new town and settlements are reached and tapped.

Judge River's residence of Eureka was burned Sunday night. The fire was caused by three little girls who were playing with a mask near a candle. The mask caught fire, which communicated with a lace curtain, and in a few moments the entire house was in flames. The loss is estimated at about $10,000; insured for $6,100.

Advertising Medium.
The advertising columns of the JOURNAL afford an excellent opportunity to our readers to study out where purchases of all kinds can be made on the most advantageous terms. All classes of goods can be found advertised from a suit of clothes or nice silk dress to the daintiest ornament in the jewelry line. The JOURNAL reaches nearly every family as well as business house in the county, and, therefore, advertisers seek its columns that the public may know what they have for sale.

In case of sickness you certainly save money, trouble and all by consulting the most experienced physician. You do the same by selecting the most learned and experienced watch-maker if you have a timepiece, be it a clock or a watch, to repair or to buy. It also requires skill and knowledge to judge the quality of jewelry, gold-ware and precious stones, and claiming to be a specialist and brought up in this business, I can safely promise a prompt performance and strict guarantee of all articles repaired or purchased at my store.

The Teachers' Examination.

Yesterday morning the examination of teachers desirous of a certificate was conducted under the direction of School Superintendent Bowen. The following ladies and gentlemen were candidates for certificates: Miss Ella McNeely, Miss Adelle Park, Robert Lewers, Nelson Carr, Miss Howard, Miss Jennie Payne, Miss M. Mott, Miss Ella Mills. A number of the scholars also thought to try their hands and as a result several of the scholars essayed a trial of intellectual strength, with a view to future contest. Their names are as follows: Miss Colwell, Miss Jennie Hill, Miss Palmer (Rennie), Mr. McArthur and Sardin Summerfield are associates on the examining board with Mr. Bowen, and the first day has been devoted to an examination in arithmetic, grammar and orthography. All the applicants have done so far extremely well.

Proposed Old Fellows Picnic.

Several prominent Old Fellows are agitating the idea of having a quiet picnic excursion to Donner Lake some time before election. The pleasure to be derived from it would be greatly enjoyed by the brethren and their families, both change and scenery and the cool mountain air, being at this heated term of the year almost a necessity to weary women and fretting children. It is to be hoped that the idea will culminate in a success.

NABBY'S BIBLE CLASS.

A Model Teacher.

At the Methodist excursion last Tuesday, desirous of recalling a faint recollection of his Sunday school days, Nasby started a Bible Class, and proceeded to explain to the children the mystery of the creation. As he could only find half a deck of cards and a few poker chips in his pocket, but hark Bible, he proceeded from memory. "The world, my beloved children," said he, "was created in six days, the Lord taking an excursion on the sixth—which is the reason of the Democratic party in California so strongly opposing the Sunday Law, they want to exorcise too." This was politically too much for the children, they wanted some more familiar subject, so one early headed little rascal shouted "Mr. Nasby, please tell us about Jonah and the whale."

"Jonah and the whale!"

"Jonah and the whale!"

"Let's see! Oh, yes! Now I've got it! You see, Jonah at one time was travelling on a steamer from Nineveh to—Liverpool and he was extremely fond of fishing. So one day he cast out his line and hooked a little whale just so big—just like the trout they want to sell in Reno for a dollar and a quarter, only six inches long. Jonah hauled him in and had him fried for supper, and he tasted very good. Such my dear little ones is the Bible history of Jonah swallowing the whale."

This seemed to kind of stun the old scholars of the Bible Class. The younger ones, however, were not at all disconcerted, and a little sweet looking girl called out, "Oh, please Mr. Nasby do tell us the story of Cain and Abel."

"Yes," replied Nas., "it is a beautiful tale, and has often brought tears to my cheeks. It happened to, so many many years ago, that the story has become more pathetic by age, and draws more tears the older it grows, just like inguns, my dear children. You see Cain and Abel were one day playing marbles together in their father's back yard, when Abel got away with the pot,—I mean the alleys and chineys, and marbles. Cain got mad and said to Abel: 'I can lick you.' 'Yer can't do it, yer aint abel,' replied his brother—when Cain up with a marble and shot his brother in the eye, killing him dead. The Bible moral of this lesson my dear children should teach you never to sass back."

"Won't you tell us about William Tell," chimed in a bright four year-old, "won't you Mr. Nasby."

"Certainly, it is one of the prettiest histories in the Old Testament. Let's see! I believe it is in the twenty-ninth book of Kings—Um! Ah! Oh! by the way, I see a friend beckoning at me. This class stands adjourned till the next picnic sine die."

A Quiet Way of Committing Murder.

Professor Reuk of Munich has found, by experiment, that the air in the ground under a house is constantly rising and passing into the house—about as dead as a thing as can happen when the earth is in a filthy condition.

—Ex.

How many houses in Reno can boast of totally healthy surroundings—under the house and around it? It seems useless however, to call the attention of the people to the danger they are incurring, by neglecting the commonest laws of self preservation, and by letting the by-ways and alleys remain reeking in filth. One man will carelessly throw a dead cat or chicken in a back alley, to breed a stench which may give rise to germs of disease, that will carry off some ailing beloved child. While a few conscientious men have undertaken to keep up with the march of sanitary improvement, the great majority remain sunk in the slough of stench. If they alone could be the sufferers, nobody would kick, but their culpable neglect is the means of bringing death and disease, into households where a proper regard for cleanliness is always observed.

A Home-Made Microscope for Reno Scientists.

There are many young and old people in Reno with a scientific bent of mind, who delight in investigating the mysteries of nature. A telescope is beyond their reach entirely; and a first class microscope is in the majority of cases beyond their means. Here is a way of making a good microscope which it is said will magnify seventy-five diameters. It is given for what it is worth. A good microscope may be made by boring a small hole in a piece of tin and filling it with one clear drop of balsam of the common fir. Perhaps if a drachm of the balsam was heated with a small quantity of the whitest glue or gelatine, it would harden when dropped, and need no care afterwards in handling. The balsam of fir can be obtained at any of the drug stores, always looking out though to select the clearest. The experiment is worth trying.

There are a number of cases of scarlet fever among the children of Reno, although the majority of cases are of a mild form.

Dr. York's Lecture.

The lecture at the Theatre last Saturday night was well attended, and was listened to from the beginning to the close with the closest attention. The speaker said, after alluding to the advertised topic for the evening, "Common Sense." As the average good judgment which men and women attain to relating to the various pursuits and business of this life, and for the purpose of this lecture, he desired to apply the same common sense as an instrument in reaching truth relating to inspiration in a natural sense, as opposed to the long cherished notion held by the religious world that in the far off past God inspired men to write books containing complete truth relating to the salvation of mankind.

From what we may know of the Divine activities, there is a connection between Deity and the soul of man—not in a supernatural but in a natural sense, as there is between light and the eye, sound and the ear, food and the palate, truth and the intellect, beauty and the imagination. So, as we obey the laws of the body, we have health; so, as we obey the law of the mind, we get wisdom and skill for the mind; so, also, as we obey the law of the moral faculties, we have moral life and peace of conscience for the mind or soul—for as we have bodily senses to lay hold upon matter and supply our physical needs, so also we have mental faculties which lay hold upon nature and upon Deity, the soul of nature, and thus supply our mental or spiritual wants. Therefore, if Deity be omnipresent and omniscient, inspiration is not a miracle confined to religion or the church in any period of the world's history, but is nature's mode of action upon the human mind. Just as gravitation is nature's method in the world of matter, so inspiration is nature's mode in the world of mind.

Inspiration, like the omnipresence of Deity, is not limited to a few writers claimed by Jews, Christians or Mohammedans, but is universal and belongs to the race, and is simply nature's mode of uplifting the human race. Inspiration is the breathing or infusing of the spirit of justice, purity and love into the mind or soul of man, and is therefore the light of our being and the great background of all human faculties; and as nature has left no age or man destitute of reason, so also she has left none destitute of inspiration.

But while we regard inspiration as a Divine impulse, we must not forget that the human mind, with all its imperfections and animalism, is a factor giving type and character to all results. Now then, as men differ widely in natural endowment, and more widely in the culture and use of all the faculties, so must inspiration be of all degrees, from the lowest sinner to the highest saint. Men and women of noble intellect and full of benevolent affections are capable of a better inspiration than the low, sensual and selfish man. An idiot can not be inspired at all. A fool cannot be inspired to reveal wisdom, nor a vicious animal man to reveal virtue, as a rule. If a rabbit, deer, bulldog or mule could be inspired, the inspiration would only intensify and bring out what was already prominent in their natures, for inspiration, like water, takes the form and color of the channel through which it is poured—and as man in nature is partly human and partly divine, so is all inspiration and all books partly true and partly false.

Therefore, such a thing as infallible inspiration is not and cannot be possible to mankind, simply on the ground of human limitations. No human mind ever existed that was perfect, hence there can not be an infallible inspiration. The scriptures of all the religions in the world are before us as proofs of the human character of all inspirations. Take the Hebrew book. It is full of human discrepancies. Read, if you please, the 109th Psalm, and then ask yourself did God or human passion dictate that fearful prayer uttered by David, King of Israel.

The Shooting Range.

Sunday all day was a splendid day for practice at the target range, owing to the entire absence of any great wind. The boys of the Reno Guard rallied in force and some excellent shooting was done. To give an idea of the improvement in the practice of the Guard, the score of Sunday is given. The highest possible score being fifty in ten shots.

THE SCORE:

Hoy.....14 Lake.....16
Rogers.....20 Threland.....15
Payolo.....15 Leonard.....14
Flutcher.....15 McDonald.....21
Meyer.....15 Matthews.....16
Dustin.....17 Bryant.....15

This practice speaks for itself, and if the Reno boys will only keep up their lick they will be able to carry off all the special prizes for target shots to be offered at the various coming picnics.

A Democratic War Horse.

The general verdict yesterday was that Col. Richardson was a Napoleon in disguise. About the primaries old John changed his cohorts before the battle and on Saturday contained himself with smiling the victory from Uncle John's engineering.

BREVITIES.

There is some talk of getting up an excursion train in October from Virginia to the Bay, placing the fare for the round trip at $15.

Allie Simpson, about nine years of age, daughter of Mrs. Simpson, living on North Virginia street, fell from a horse she was riding last Saturday evening and broke her arm.

There are ten persons in the Elko county jail. Two of them are insane, who are awaiting the return of the District Judge from Ruby Valley, to be examined in regard to their eligibility for positions in the strankery at Reno.

Nasby has just received a large and elegant assortment of fine jewelry, comprising the latest styles in fine gold pins, buttons and nickel-plated trace-lets and buttons, etc., etc. Call and examine Nasby's wares and you will never leave his store dissatisfied.

Washoe valley farmers will harvest between twelve and fifteen hundred tons of grain this year—the largest yield the farmers have had for years. Besides this, the valley will produce about two thousand boxes of fruit of various kinds. Farmers are now making regular shipments of fruit to Virginia.

There is so much of freedom and independence in the life of a pioneer, that one need not be surprised that men—and women, too—are ready to brave the dangers and discomforts attendant on this mode of life. Therefore, they should always be protected with a good English bull-dog pistol that can be bought for $18 of Uncle Harris, 221 Kearney St., San Francisco.

Frank David, of Susanville, while coming to Reno Sunday from Surprise Valley, when about 18 miles out from town, accidentally got his foot under a wheel of his wagon and had it badly crushed. There was a load of about 5,500 on the wagon, and although Dr. Bishop says he thinks no bones are broken, it has made a pretty lame foot for a while.

District Court.

The District Court met yesterday morning and the following business was transacted:

By consent, the hearing of the motion for a new trial in the case of Lachman vs. Barnett, was continued to Saturday, September 2d.

The court then adjourned till Saturday next.

Nothing has as yet been done in the contempt case of Kelley vs. Sullivan.

He shipped.

Peter Cannon, a boiler maker in the C. P. shops at Wadsworth, was yesterday arrested at that place for making threats against the life of Mr. Gregg, by whom he had been discharged. Just as Justice Carey was about to give him a hearing, Cannon asked leave and obtained permission to retire from the court-room. As soon as he got out he took leg-bail and has not been heard of since.

Transcript Work.

The JOURNAL job office has just turned out a transcript for the Supreme Court in the Lake vs. Lake case. It makes a book of 142 pages, and is printed in exact accordance with the rules of the Supreme Court. The JOURNAL job office does brief and transcript work in No. 1 style and at the low cash price of $1 per page. Lawyers and litigants are requested to bear these facts in mind.

Ducks a Nuisance at Glendale.

John Denning, of Glendale, says that ducks are so plentiful, that duck nets have to be put up over the beds of Glendalens at night to prevent them from tormenting the sleepers. The country thereabouts, seems to be alive with them, and after the close season ends Glendale will be a paradise for hunters.

An Eighth Wonder.

The Central Pacific has reduced rates from the west on the coast of goods that heretofore has paid 232 1/2 cents to 134 1/2, and that of 192 to 143 1/2. The articles affected are different kinds of furniture, coal oil, stoves, stove furniture, agricultural implements, etc.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES do not dis-rupt the stomach like cough syrups and balsam, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Sluggers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have gained well-merited rank among the few safe remedies of the age. Sold at 25c. a box everywhere.
